

Battle of Worcester Society
3rd September 1651

Bridges of Boats

Presentation & Debate

It was the Parliamentarians' ability to move troops in numbers and quickly east and west of the river that, arguably, secured Cromwell's victory at The Battle of Worcester on 3rd September 1651.

However, historians differ on where exactly the bridges of boats were located, the design and how they were used.

Battle of Worcester Society Members Sean Brown and Tony Spicer will present, discuss and debate the evidence of the "Bridges of Boats" used by Cromwell to cross The River Severn during the battle. Society Committee Member Brian Bullock will chair the debate.

1st September 2009

Commandery
Sidbury
Worcester

7.00 pm

Join the argument!

If you have personal knowledge of the area around the confluence of the Teme and the Severn and can offer any information or views that will inform the debate - we would particularly like to encourage you to come to this event and share your insights.

Tickets £4
on the door

Reserve in advance on:

01905
361821